RE: Brexit Statement

To Whom It May Concern:

With Brexit just around the corner, we wish to reassure all of our customers and contacts that we are monitoring the situation carefully.

At this present time, the effects of Brexit are not at all clear and we feel we do not yet have enough information to make firm plans for our company pending the UK's exit from the EU.

We will, of course, do everything possible to prevent any negative effects of our departure and once things become clearer, we will issue a statement on our plans.

As this situation may affect the whole of our customer and supplier base, we are unable to answer any individual forms that you may wish us to complete at this present time.
